

#1: barnee vs. VictoryFirst | Game 1 Game Report

Written by Barnee

@VictoryFirst and I have concluded our First Global 1940 Expansion Game. Victory was the Allies and I was the Axis. After a hard fought game, the Allies asked for an armistice in Early 1945.

This was the first time for both of us to play an actual opponent as opposed to solo games against ourselves. We used triplea and were quite pleased with how it handled the gameplay.

With some use of Edit and our friend "dicebot" we were able to play a rule compliant game :) While we had to do a little more work of our own to help triplea as opposed to most triplea games, we found it not to be a hindrance and just part of normal game play.

As for the game itself, Germany started with a fairly heavy Uboat presence. USA sent a lot of early resources to the Pacific.

Italy was able to maintain a hold on Egypt and Battle with UK for Middle East control.

JPN got early control of the Dutch islands and were able to maintain control throughout the game with some back and forth.

Uncle Sam was able to take Carolines, but did not have enough strength to hold after a move to the North which took Iwo away from JPN and threatened the Japanese Homeland.

More to follow :) Don't wanna get timed out lol

The soviets were able to keep the reich at bay for the most part but by early 45 a Huge Army Group was able to finally take and hold Belarus. The godless communists were very effective with there deployment of Landmines to slow the German advance.

German and Italian Paratrooper and LCV landings in Caucasus, caused constant battle.

All in all a very enjoyable first experience. I think I can safely speak for Victory and Commend The Captain and Company with our Highest Approval of The Global 1940 Expansion.

Some updates to smooth gameplay will be made before starting our second game. Here is our Game
